Classic Horror Authors Web Site Survey Form

Web forms allow you a way to interact with the users of your website. Forms are used to collect information, provide feedback and are an integral part of on-line shopping sites. In this exercise, you will be creating a survey page to add to the Classic Horror Authors web site.

1. Open poe.html from “Productivity – Building a 3 Page Site” and save it as survey.html
2. Where the authors name appears change it to: Classic Horror Authors - Survey.
3. Update the title tag of the page accordingly as well.
4. Your page will require the following modifications:
  - a. Remove the rightpanel div element and the contents within it. It won't be required for the survey page.
  - b. Adjust the width of the content div so it is the same as the header, navigation and footer div elements.
  - c. Remove the margin-bottom and float:left styles from the style declaration for the content id selector.
5. The following content is to be provided within the content div element.

The purpose of this survey is to determine your preference of and your experience with the three authors currently featured on our web site. Please take the time to answer the following questions and submit it to us so we can later post the results.

Thanks for completing our survey.

- Add the indicated form input elements to the page. Ensure that all input elements receive an appropriate and meaningful name attribute value. If the element requires a value attribute, ensure that is appropriate and meaningful as well.
- Locate the text "Of the three featured authors, who are you most familiar with?" and immediately above it, add the following form tag:

```
<form name="survey" method="post" action="mailto:you@youremail.com" enctype="text/plain">
```

Please use your own email address for the mailto: above.

- Locate the textarea element and immediately below it, add the following close form tag:

```
</form>
```

- Above the close form tag please add a submit button and a reset button.
- Add the Survey page to the global navigation. Link this page accordingly within the other three pages of the Classic Horror Authors web site so you have a fully functioning 4 page site.
- Verify your survey page against the sample below. Make any changes required.
